

Ted Wilson – Venture Manager

Ted joined Venture's management team initially to continue his invaluable role as medical liaison manager in the event control room at the V Festival, Weston Park, Staffordshire. Since this Ted has helped out and worked at many other events providing both management and ambulance support.

After completing 34 years working for the Yorkshire Ambulance Service, formerly West Yorkshire Metropolitan Ambulance Service, Ted decided to take early retirement. Many of his 34 years were on frontline ambulances as an EMT. Ted also took advantage of many development positions rising quickly through the ranks in his career. The many positions he held include Station Manager, Logistics Manager, Accident & Emergency Divisional Manager, Duty Officer, Control Officer, Group Station Manager and Accident & Emergency Operational Manager. A wealth of experience that he now shares with Venture.

Ted has worked at many large concerts, sporting events and festivals and holds a SIA CCTV licence which enables him to work in event controls and operate CCTV relaying valuable assistance and locations to responders guiding them to casualties. Ted has also attended The Home Office Emergency Planning College on several courses.
